Forward Looking Statements

Certain of the matters discussed in these slides, including information regarding the company’s 2012 financial outlook that are predictive in nature, that depend upon or refer to events or conditions or that include words such as “expects,” “anticipates,” “intends,” “plans,” “believes,” “estimates,” and similar expressions constitute forward-looking statements. Although we believe that these statements are based upon reasonable assumptions, including projections of total sales growth, sales growth from business acquisitions, organic sales growth, consolidated operating margins, total segment operating margins, interest expense, earnings, cash flow, research and development costs, working capital, capital expenditures and other projections, they are subject to several risks and uncertainties, and therefore, we can give no assurance that these statements will be achieved. Such statements will also be influenced by factors which include, among other things: our dependence on the defense industry and the business risks peculiar to that industry, including changing priorities or reductions in the U.S. Government defense budget; backlog processing and program slips resulting from delayed funding of the Department of Defense (DoD) budget; our reliance on contracts with a limited number of agencies of, or contractors to, the U.S. Government and the possibility of termination of government contracts by unilateral government action or for failure to perform; the extensive legal and regulatory requirements surrounding our contracts with the U.S. or foreign governments and the results of any investigation of our contracts undertaken by the U.S. or foreign governments; our ability to retain our existing business and related contracts (revenue arrangements); our ability to successfully compete for and win new business and related contracts (revenue arrangements) and to win re-competitions of our existing contracts; our ability to identify and acquire additional businesses in the future with terms that are attractive to L-3 and to integrate acquired business operations; the impact of any strategic initiatives undertaken by us, and our ability to achieve anticipated benefits; our ability to maintain and improve our consolidated operating margin and total segment operating margin in future periods; our ability to obtain future government contracts (revenue arrangements) on a timely basis; the availability of government funding or cost-cutting initiatives and changes in customer requirements for our products and services; our significant amount of debt and the restrictions contained in our debt agreements; our ability to continue to retain and train our existing employees and to recruit and hire new qualified and skilled employees as well as our ability to retain and hire employees with U.S. Government security clearances; actual future interest rates, volatility and other assumptions used in the determination of pension benefits and equity based compensation, as well as the market performance of benefit plan assets; our collective bargaining agreements, our ability to successfully negotiate contracts with labor unions and our ability to favorably resolve labor disputes should they arise; the business, economic and political conditions in the markets in which we operate, including those for the commercial aviation, shipbuilding and communications markets; global economic uncertainty; the DoD’s contractor support services in-sourcing and efficiency initiatives; events beyond our control such as acts of terrorism; our ability to perform contracts (revenue arrangements) on schedule; our international operations; our extensive use of fixed-price type contracts as compared to cost-plus type and time-and-material type contracts; the rapid change of technology and high level of competition in the defense industry and the commercial industries in which our businesses participate; our introduction of new products into commercial markets or our investments in civil and commercial products or companies; the outcome of litigation matters, including in connection with jury trials; results of audits by U.S. Government agencies; results of on-going governmental investigations, including potential suspensions or debarments; the impact on our business of improper conduct by our employees, agents or business partners; anticipated cost savings from business acquisitions not fully realized or realized within the expected time frame; the outcome of matters relating to the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) and similar non-U.S. regulations; ultimate resolution of contingent matters, claims and investigations relating to acquired businesses, and the impact on the final purchase price allocations; competitive pressure among companies in our industry; and the fair values of our assets, which can be impaired or reduced by other factors, some of which are discussed above.

For a discussion of these and other risks and uncertainties that could impair our results of operations or financial condition, see “Part I — Item 1A — Risk Factors” and Note 19 to the recasted presentation of our audited consolidated financial statements, included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011 as filed on Form 8-K on November 20, 2012, “Part I — Item 2 – Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Overview and Outlook – Industry Considerations”, included in our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarters ended September 30, 2012, June 29, 2012 and March 30, 2012, and any material updates to these factors contained in any of our future filings.

Our forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and the actual results or developments may differ materially from the expectations expressed in the forward-looking statements. As for the forward-looking statements that relate to future financial results and other projections, actual results will be different due to the inherent uncertainties of estimates, forecasts and projections and may be better or worse than projected and such differences could be material. Given these uncertainties, you should not place any reliance on these forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements also represent our estimates and assumptions only as of the date that they were made. We expressly disclaim a duty to provide updates to these forward-looking statements, and the estimates and assumptions associated with them, after the date of these slides to reflect events or changes in circumstances or changes in expectations or the occurrence of anticipated events.

2013 Preliminary

- DoD: 69%
- Other U.S. Agencies: 26%
- Commercial / International: 5%
Outlook - - 2013

• Modest sales decline, cash generation remains strong and will provide earnings growth

• Company will continue to monitor portfolio mix and evaluate acquisition candidates in light of shifting market dynamics

• Well positioned for “Better Buying Power 2.0”

• Market share opportunities in both USG and Commercial/International markets

• Growth challenges in USG markets
USG Markets: 74% of 2013 sales

- Geopolitical threats vs. fiscal constraints continue
- DoD budget cyclical downturn began in 2011
  - OCO declining with drawdowns
  - Initial BCA cuts…$487B reduced future budget growth
  - Base budget Investment Accounts…low single-digit declines FY10-13
- Fiscal cliff, Sequester need to be resolved
- Non-DoD agencies - - smaller bill payers than DoD

Uncertainties continue but situation is manageable
Commercial/International Markets: 26% of 2013 sales

- Foreign Military markets - market share gains driving growth...airborne ISR, aircraft modifications, simulators

- Commercial markets - modest growth in aviation, security & detection and law enforcement...shipbuilding and SATCOM softening

- Acquisition of the Thales commercial aircraft simulation business extends simulation & training to the global commercial marketplace
Segment Trends
Aircraft Modernization and Maintenance

- Aging fleets and DoD affordability initiatives creating opportunities
- Platform Systems gaining market share...several new international wins
- Captured 100% USN P-3 SMIP ...expanding USAF EC-130 position
- Won Ft. Rucker CLS re-compete
- Stable margins

2013 Midpoint Guidance: Net Sales $2.375B, Margin 9.2%
C³ISR

• Strong, long-term program positions

• Solid DoD demand for airborne ISR and networked communications

• International/select DoD growing…small ISR aircraft and Rover declining due to Afghanistan drawdown

• Solid margins…higher pension expense

2013 Midpoint Guidance: Net Sales $3.55B, Margin 10.5%
National Security Solutions

- Sales declining…drawdowns, OSD initiatives, tighter budgets
- Technology enablers from C³ISR
- Awaiting selection decisions on several competitions
- EPM III re-compete in 2013 ($200M annual sales)…may slip one year
- Margins bottoming in 2012

2013 Midpoint Guidance: Net Sales $1.25B, Margin 6.5%
Cyber - - A Developing Market

- Customer priorities/strategies evolving
- DoD view - - defend cyber space - - "no different than Sea, air, land and space" (Secretary Panetta - Oct. 11, 2012)
- Military response to cyber attack? "Cyber Pearl Harbor"
- Cybersecurity is converging - I.T., Communication Systems, Devices, etc. - - an element across many capabilities
- NSS Group and Virginia Tech open Cybersecurity Center in Arlington - October 5, 2012
  - Collaborative effort to develop solutions
  - Demo center capability for customers to showcase technology and rapid response

Annual DoD spend estimated to be $3B/year
Electronic Systems

- Diverse, mostly short-cycle products
- Expanding market share
- Delays/funding cuts affecting several businesses…EO/IR turrets…
  Afghanistan surge ending in 2012
- KEO and Link UK acquisitions broaden portfolio
- Highest segment margins…mix and pension impacts

2013 Midpoint Guidance: Net Sales $5.475B, Margin 10.8%
Summary

• Strong execution in a challenging but manageable environment

• Technology/solutions for customer priorities

• Defense down-cycle will eventually turn

• Continued robust cash flow and focused capital allocation

L-3 is well-positioned
